A photograph of a well-maintained garden. In the foreground, there's a large, light-colored terracotta pot containing a plant with long, green, sword-shaped leaves. To the right of the pot, several purple agapanthus flowers are in bloom. The garden is filled with various green plants, including low-lying shrubs and taller bushes. In the background, a large, dense bush of white flowers stands out against a backdrop of tall, dark evergreen trees. A paved path or driveway is visible on the left side of the image.
